The above classification applies to cars with non-supercharged engines.

Cars equipped with a supercharging device provided for the whole series by the manufacturer may be recognised by the F.I.A., but in one of the classes above the one they would belong to according to their nominal cylinder capacity.

254—Recognition of series production models

Before a series production car is accepted in the "Touring" or "Grand Touring" category in a competition, it has to be recognised in that category by the F.I.A.

Recognition of each Touring or Grand Touring model shall be requested by the National Automobile Club of its manufacturing country. Said request shall be accompanied with a certification from the A.C.N. that the minimum production required has been met and with the technical documentation enabling the unmistakable identification of the model.

Recognitions will be granted by the F.I.A. on recommendations of a sub-Commission appointed by the C.S.I. called "Sub-Commission on Recognitions". This Sub Committee shall be entitled to require any additional evidence it may deem necessary to enable consideration of an application for recognition. They will be circulated at the earliest opportunity by the F.I.A. Secretariat.
